December 2008

Dear readers...

Autumn has arrived, the clocks have gone back and we need to think about winter knitting, even if we don't actually do any! With the current credit crunch, there's never been a better time to use up some of our yarn stash before seasonal festivities take over. I start this issue in September and have got to a time in my life when mentioning the forthcoming festivities, before Hallowe'en and bonfires have been lit, is neither necessary nor essential. Therefore I've limited the spirit of the occasion to four pages at the end of the magazine, plus some ideas for seasonal knitting. Sally-Ann makes sure we put our best foot forward and there are lots of classy ideas for eyelash yarn, courtesy of King Cole. To use up any oddments, don't forget Maggie Andrews' cushion on page 38 last month.

If you've children in your life, you'll know that tank tops are back. They make great gifts, take next-to-no-time to knit and there are loads of colour and stripe variations, which are ideal for using up cone ends. One of the 'tricks of the trade' for combining colours is to find something you love that might be a card or plate, picture or dress. It can be anything you like for the colours and if you're knitting for friends and family, especially youngsters, work on the same principle. Find a firm favourite - let's say a card and then collect together a selection of yarns in similar colours. Katharine Humphries had some great ideas for stripes on page 16 of the April 2008 issue, then all that's left is to work out the colours and you're off.

Finally this month it's my pleasure to welcome Bill King to MKM. For many years Bill has worked in industry, creating designs and fabrics for the top end of the fashion trade. He's well known at Metropolitan and much acclaimed for his innovative ideas and talent. Bill creates the most wonderful fabrics and stretches our imagination to produce amazing fabrics on a very basic standard gauge machines, as anyone who has attended one of his workshops will testify. At the recent Dream Week, I persuaded him to find a little time in his busy life to bring some of his ideas to MKM and his first feature is on pages 54 and 55. All you need is a very basic standard gauge machine capable of 1x1 patterning plus a 7-prong transfer tool set to move alternate stitches. The samples speak for themselves and if his ideas don't inspire you, then nothing will!

Kiss me quick

From Hollywood blockbusters to 'kiss me quick' hats, a former Victorian chapel in the heart of Bradford has developed close links with the glitter of the movies and the West End stage. In recent years, Texere has been the source of film and stage props for many blockbuster films and stage productions. Hundreds of balls of Texere Yarn plus knitting needles and patterns filled the make-believe shop for the set of a new Tom Hanks film City of Ember, due for release in October 2008. The company has also proved a useful source of yarn for the film Elizabeth, West End musical Mamma Mia, the Northern Ballet, Blackpool Ice Theatre and the makers of 'kiss me quick' hats on Blackpool's Golden Mile. Texere Yarns, College Mill, Barkerend Road, Bradford, West Yorkshire BD1 4AU Tel 01274-722191 E-mail enquiries@texere-yarns.co.uk Website www.texere-yarns.co.uk

Shades of luxury

Here are some details of a lovely Shades of Cashmere yarn that Jane Woodward is reducing. Six new colours are coming in, so she's clearing the stock room to make way for some more shades. It's Geelong Merino Lamb's Wool Slub (Yarn reference GL17) and it's a really lovely Australian Merino Lamb's Wool. It knits as a fine double knitting and for machine knitting we'd recommend it's used on chunky machines at around Tension 1 for stocking stitch, lace, Fair Isle and so on. It can also be used quite easily on standard gauge machines with the ribber as a lovely rib fabric. To support this yarn for machine knitters, Jane has a Wendy Piper Wrap Pattern for £3 for sale with yarn and if you can wait a month or two, there will be a number of patterns in MKM, so stock up now at bargain prices. For hand knitters, 20 to 22 stitches to 10 cm over stocking stitch is recommended and Jane has Wendy's wrap pattern, a sweater pattern, a cable trimmed jacket and an Iris Hutchins Lace Jacket pattern. Each pattern costs £3 each when bought with the yarn.

Wendy's Wrap Jacket – pattern requires only 350g for the longer length for the standard gauge machine with ribber

MACHINE

Half Price!

The yarn is on 500 g cones at £15 per cone but the special MKM price is £7.50. In the following eight shades – Ceramic (soft pale blue), Pandora (soft magenta), Brown (burnt almond), Blue (denim), Bengal (burnt orange), Cinnabar (warm rust), Raspberry (deep pink) and Cygnet (very soft pale grey). Jane has reduced the price to buy two cones for the price of one. Postage and packing is £4.56 for the kilo so two cones will cost £19.56 (£15 plus £4.56 p&p). Don't forget an additional £3 for each pattern, if required. You need to tell Jane which two colours you'd like and they don't have to be the same. However, please give a second choice for each selection in case some of the shades sell out quickly. Cheques should be made payable to Shades of Cashmere and sent to Jane Woodward, Shades of Cashmere, Grove Farm, Wolvey, Hinckley, Leicestershire LE10 3LL Tel/Fax 01455-220767

Last-minute makes

For last-minute makes, three ideal yarns from Yeoman for making scarves are Butterfly, Pellonia and Jewel. Butterfly 4-ply is an 85% Viscose and 15% Polyester yarn, available on 250g cones and there are six mouth-watering shades. Pellonia 4-ply is 100% Microfibre Nylon available in ten shades on 350g cones. (Hand wash at 40c.) Jewel is a wonderfully soft Chunky/Aran weight yarn that's 56% Acrylic, 24% Wool and 20% Nylon. It can be hand or machine knitted and it has a wonderful sparkle. (Hand or machine wash at 30c with a warm rinse.) The subtle glitter will please everyone and the thickness will soon knit up into a lovely hat and scarf. If you are interested in finding out more about these yarns the address is Yeoman Yarns Ltd, 36 Churchill Way, Fleckney, Leicestershire LE8 8UD Tel 0116-240 4464 E-mail sales@yeomanyarns.co.uk Website www.yeoman-yarns.co.uk

The Big Stitch

The Children's Society wants volunteers to knit sections of a scarf to help runaways. Get friends and family to sponsor each centimetre or make a donation to help the thousands of children on the streets this winter. Each centimetre in the kilometre long scarf will represent the 100,000 children and young people who run away from home each year in the UK. The Big Stitch campaign runs until 13 January 2009, traditionally the coldest day of the year. To find out how to get involved call 0845-300 1128 or visit www.childrenssociety.org.uk/bigstitch

Mike Reid live The Guv'nor's Last Stand

The final stand up performance from the legendary adult comedian is released this Christmas in an extra special and poignant DVD of Mike Reid performing his incredible renowned stand up shows. The exclusive footage features Mike on stage at the Cliff Pavilion Southend (2006) and Bury Cottage, Stanstead (Nov 2006) when he was still performing at his peak. Born in Hackney, East London in 1940, Mike first got into entertainment as a stand up comedian and international fame came in 1987 with the introduction of his character into Eastenders. In 2000, Mike left Eastenders but continued to tour and was immensely popular throughout the UK. This raw, genuine footage portrays stand up at its best. Mike's quick fire wit and razor sharp tongue will have you roaring with laughter and remind you why he's everyone's favourite East End geezer. Two hilarious live stand up shows on one brand new DVD Mike Reid Live, The Guv'nor's Last Stand is a must have and a great gift for fans of comedy and of the much loved late Mike Reid.

In with a chance

We've five copies to give away to our readers and all we need is a postcard (or sealed down envelope) with your full name and address plus the name of the character Mike Reid played in Eastenders. Send it to RPA Publishing, PO Box 1479, Maidenhead, Berkshire SL6 8YX to arrive by Monday 8 December 2008 and we'll do our best to send the copies to our five lucky winners in time for Christmas. WEEKEND CROCHET FOR BABIES

Those of you who have followed our Editor Anne's career will remember that she worked with Sue Whiting at Fashioncraft, when Machine Knitting News was an 8-page pullout in the centre of the magazine. Sue was sewing editor and she spread her wings into crochet some time ago. The 24 patterns in her new book are really simple and can be created in just one or two weekends. Each project has clear instructions, full information on yarns, stitches and techniques and beautiful photographs. A problem shared

Members of the Oldham Life Long Learning Centre told Anne about the problems the club now faces to keep going (see Fond Memories on page 11). Since Helen's untimely death, the Friday morning class at Gallery Oldham is in a dilemma. They were almost ready to start the new term and found themselves without a teacher and no hope of getting one until January 2009 at the very earliest. They've had great support from the management of Life-long Learning, who have allowed the club to use the facilities and equipment for a very nominal sum until Christmas. They call themselves a Community Group and as one of the more experienced members has kindly agreed to act as leader, they've been able to keep together as a group. However, in spite of advertising they've so far been unable to find a replacement teacher and face having to close down completely in December 2008. They wonder if there's anyone within travelling distance of Oldham, who is suitably qualified and free on Friday mornings. All that's required is to teach a keen and friendly bunch of enthusiastic machine knitters. If you're hiding your light under a bushel and are interested in picking up the gauntlet, please call Kath Stone direct on 0161-770 8029.

Fond memories

Dear Anne

Through the pages of the magazine we would like to pay tribute to a lovely lady, Helen Ashton, who died so suddenly and unexpectedly a few weeks ago. She was a very talented and dedicated teacher whose lessons were always full of interest and inspiration and she made machine knitting fun to do. Whatever the problem, Helen would solve it and she was always prepared to go that extra mile in her work by organizing trips to Exhibitions, Wool Sales and so on at weekends. In her busy life she still thought of others by running marathons for charity. Indeed, she ran one for Cancer Research just weeks before she died.

Many of us in the class at Oldham Life Long Learning Centre have known Helen for over 25 years and will miss her on two levels, both as a friend and as a teacher and we know that the world of machine knitting has also lost a skilled ambassador. We extend our deepest sympathy to her husband and family and our thoughts are with them as they face the difficult months ahead.

God Bless, Helen from all at the Friday Knitting Class, Gallery Oldham

Dear Anne

Thanks for including my letter in the November magazine and you've made it look very nice. All I can say is 'Wow', MKM really looks very professional and eye catching and will rank with all the best magazines now. I was particularly pleased with the premature baby set as our club, the Knifty Knitters, are bringing in all our baby wear and hats and scarves to be donated to charity. We'll send you a picture and for anyone in our North Wales area, we meet every first and third Tuesday of the month at Penrhyn Bay Community Centre at 7.00 pm. Anyone interested can contact me on 01492-516247 or Audrey Clark on 01492-582332. Once again, many thanks Anne from Ria Bell

FOR ALL YOUR MACHINE KNITTING NEEDS

MACHINE
KNITTING
MONTHLY Dear Anne

This month our readers have lots to tell and share. If you've a favourite suggestion, a story to tell or a point to make then share it with us by writing to Anne at the usual address on page 3 or e-mail mail@machineknittingmonthly.net

Wow! Brilliant!

Dear Anne

My first impression on opening the September issue was 'Wow! Brilliant' and I still think the same on opening the October mag. I think the new layout is super and all-colour just lifts the mag into a completely new class, not that there was anything wrong with it before. If you have to put the price up (and I don't know how you've managed to keep the price down when everything is going up) you shouldn't have too many moans.

Just thought you might be interested in the attached. I actually knitted the jumper on the Bond using Keyplate 2 but the jumper could be knitted on any machine by manually selecting the needles. Then again a card could be punched or it could be put into an electronic by whatever method is appropriate. Because the floats are only three stitches long, it's fine for chunky machines and for kids who we all know catch their finger and drag on any floats whatsoever!

I'm not giving a pattern as this Fair-Isle can be added to any jumper, but I have to admit to using Elizabeth Zimmerman's Percentage System (EPS) for working out the number of stitches to cast on for such things as the cuff and the Magic Formula for working out increases, so mixing hand and machine knitting techniques. Obviously a tension swatch is essential and honest body measurements. However, since I'm the only one to read the tape measure and then turn it into rows and stitches, no one else need know what the measurements were in the first place. I think I'm finally getting the hang of my computer now my son has moved out and I get a chance to use it.

Keep up the good work from Katharine Humphries in Poole, Dorset

FEEL THE WIDTH

Dear Anne

With reference to the letter from Marilyn Hurst in Wigan on felting on page 15 of the September issue on MKM, this reminded me that people do not always think of knitting in the round to get a wider piece to felt. I make a continuous bag that's joined at the bottom and I knit until the cone runs out. I finish off with waste wool. I then pin sheets to the inside and also put in some washing or something to rattle around, tack up the top and stick it in the washing machine. I use Uppingham 2-ply and sometimes it takes two washes – it just depends on the colour and whether it has been agitated enough. It makes very nice jackets and embroiders beautifully.

More happy felting from Rita Lambeth

CONGRATULATIONS!

Dear Anne

I felt I must write and congratulate you on a wonderful new look magazine. I am relatively new to machine knitting and self taught, as I cannot find a club in my area. The magazine has been an inspirational learning tool for me and for that I thank you.

I have been looking for a suitable hat pattern for my three granddaughters for the past couple of months without much success. You can imagine my delight when I opened my November issue of MKM and found the article by Helen Macleod about her grandson's hat. I immediately sorted out some suitable yarn and tried out the pattern. It is perfect. I will certainly be putting her new book on my Christmas list. I look forward to receiving MKM each month and keep all my copies, reading them many time over. Once again, many thanks for the hours of reading pleasure you provide.

Keep up the good work and kindest regards from Shirley Marsden in Doncaster

WEDDED BLISS

Dear Anne

Firstly, what a superb layout the new magazine is - well done! A week on Thursday I'm going on a cruise to celebrate 30 years of wedded 'bliss'

FOR THE MACHINE KNITTING CLUB'S NATIVITY SCENE, NOT EVERYONE WAS KNITTING FROM THE SAME PATTERN BOOK.

The 'Vancouver' connection

(Hmm!) to Alaska. We fly to Vancouver and actually have a day there before boarding the ship. You may wonder why I am telling you this and it's because Barbara Tulip lives in Vancouver and we're hoping to meet up. Should our plans come to fruition, I will take some photos and send them to you on my return and hopefully you'll be able to print them in a forthcoming edition. Barbara and I have had a few e-mails since you put us in touch and neither of us could believe it when we found out about the 'Vancouver' connection. Watch this space for my return! With all good wishes from Fran Davidson

INTO THE SIDINGS

Hi Anne

Congratulations on your new look magazine. The layout is much clearer and also the pattern pages are easier to read with the new 'at-a-glance' pattern information. I've just taken out a year subscription to the magazine, which saves me going to the newsagent every month to pick up my issue. I've just finished knitting a sideways sweater and I must say that it's very comfortable to wear. I've tried to find a machine-knitting pattern for a sideways knitted cardigan but as yet I've had no luck. Could you look into your archives to try and locate one and if possible would you be able to print the pattern in one of your future issues?

I was so disappointed not to be able to attend MK LIVE! this year as I'm sure that I must have missed some new exciting goodies that I'd have been happy to purchase. Perhaps I'll have better luck next year but usually I can't do an October show as I'm away on holiday. I noticed that in one of your back numbers you had a pattern for a

Alaska cruise

Hallo Anne

Do you remember putting Fran Davidson in touch with me through MKM? I'm happy to tell you that when she visited Vancouver we spent a happy couple of hours chatting about machine knitting, in what was to her the early hours of the morning. They were spending their wedding anniversary taking the Alaska Cruise. She will be sending you some photos I expect when they get back. So thank you for putting us in touch, she very kindly brought me some patterns. I know that you are encouraging younger people to machine knit and using some of the chunky knitting now so popular to encourage them into taking the magazine. I was looking through some old To & Fro copies I was given and wondered if it would be a good idea to re-publish the jacket on the front of the Nov 1991 - January 92, Vol 14, No. 3 issue? The pattern is on page 28 and it's by Raymonde Chessum. It's knitted in pieces, which makes it ideal for chunky machines that have a very small number of needles.

ladies shrug. I wonder if you would be able to print the pattern in one of your future issues? I'm gradually getting back in the swing of using my knitting machines (Brother 890 and Brother 260 both with ribbers) but I can't seem to be able to master using the 'holding technique' instead of the traditional cast off method. To the accomplished knitter, this is surely a very easy method and I think my problem may be due to 'senior moments', which we older people sometimes have - well I do! Would you

- please print the way of using the method in one of your helpful articles?

I also wonder if you could have a page dedicated to hints and tips from other readers which would, I assume, cover many problems which others returning to machine knitting would find very helpful. I really do look forward to my issue of your magazine each month, as it is a good mix of patterns. Keep up the good work and long life to your magazine!

• Many thanks from June Wisdom

Spotlight On BUSY BEE BASICS

Let's shine the spotlight on Busy Bee Basics, well known for machine knitting patterns that are clearly written and easy to follow

For many years the family team of Hilary Belton and her mother Barbara has produced a wide range of patterns and helpful books of standard gauge designs suitable for Brother, Knitmaster, Silver and Toyota machines. To date there are over 80 pattern books bursting with more than 300 exclusive designs that include stocking stitch, tuck and slip, Fair Isle and rib for all machines plus lace patterns for Brother. As well as patterns for standard gauge machines there are four more books for chunky models featuring good classic designs for women, men and children using modern, fashionable yarns in double knit or Aran weight. Added to this outstanding collection are another 25 books of fabulous, textured patterns designed solely for Brother knitting machines with a garter carriage.

Although Barbara remains tremendously interested, her deteriorating health over the past few years has called for a change of direction and Hilary now produces pattern books on her own. Two popular recent additions are Making A Poncho to use your favourite yarn either plain or patterned and knock it up in a day. Hilary shows us a wonderfully quick way of making a professionally styled poncho with no increasing or decreasing. Making A Wrap uses more favourite yarn to make a plain or patterned wrap in a day with professional styling and no shaping. Each book costs £2.

NEW – NEW – NEW – NEW 2 of the best

Devotees will be thrilled to know that Hilary has just added two more books in her Easy Makes series. In Making A Textured Scarf, you choose the stitch pattern and yarn and you even have a choice of machine. Any model can be used and if you know how many stitches and rows there are to 10 cm, you can make a scarf with confidence! However there's something extra in this book, which newer knitters especially will enjoy. Full instructions are given for multi-colour tuck stitch and partial pin tucks. Multi-colour tuck is a simple way to add both colour and texture to the fabric, whilst partial pin tucks can be used on any machine - even those that can only do plain knitting. It adds bands of texture, thickness and weight to the fabric easily and the price of Book 205 is just £4.

The second book is Making Cushion Covers and these quick and easy covers can be made on all machines with any yarn and stitch pattern from just one piece of fabric. What could be easier? Guides are given for making a ribbed cushion with a nautical theme, a summer meadow design plus Fair Isle and textured patterns. Another option is to use some of the textured designs from Book 205, Making A Textured Scarf, for a modern look. More Soft Furnishings Cushion covers made easy – some with delectable texture using double knit yarn on the garter carriage and others using co-ordinating colours on standard gauge machines. Chenille Cushions Price £4. Garter carriage Aran-style cushions Price £3.

Cut and sew neckline templates is in book format so there are no lost templates! Instructions included, each neckline graded by garment size, easy to customise, simply trace then sew and cut, infinitely reusable. Price £3.50.

Guide to the garter carriage Extra help for new users, help with buttonholes, untangling knots, when things go wrong, maintenance tips. Price £4.

Fashion tips

I know you like showing off your posh knits when you're going out somewhere special, but if you fancy treating yourself to a new outfit for Christmas, here's what you can expect to see on the high street. Why not drop a hint to your nearest and dearest? says Sally-Ann Carroll

Deep purple

Purple reigns once again for winter and if you've always liked this regal hue, you've now been given a second chance. Made up in comfy stretch jersey, this attractive top and skirt would be pure bliss to wear. Mix and match with your favourite knits. The skirt would look fantastic worn with a patterned sweater and the top teamed with a long black knitted skirt.

Purple jersey top and skirt, £70 and £90, in sizes 10 to 22, by Gina Bacconi from Gray & Osbourn (0871-987 1166).

The silk touch

Trousers are accepted virtually everywhere now and are a firm favourite with most women. If your pins are not quite up to scratch, a trouser ensemble is the perfect choice. Although this striking black and ivory three-piece has a matching camisole, why not knit your own black version instead?

Black and ivory silk chiffon jacket, £85. Camisole, £60. Trousers, £95, all in sizes 12 to 24, by Chesca from Gray & Osbourn (0871-987 1166).

All dressed up

I know we can't all look like Jane Seymour, but at least we can copy her sense of style. This vibrant peacock blue velvet dress is flattering, easy to wear and would hardly crease - a real bonus. This shade of blue is utterly charming and worth remembering when you're choosing colours for your knits.

Peacock blue velvet dress, £180, in sizes 8 to 18, by CC (01845-573120).

Play your cardis right

Cardigans have once again been given an injection of style. I know you must have one or two sitting in your wardrobe, but there's always room for another, I'm sure. To jazz up one of your black knits, add a touch of gold and silver, metallic yarns are big news for winter.

Black cardigan, £59.99. Silver skirt, £89.99, both in sizes 8 to 18, by Kaliko (01582-399809).

True blue

Every woman needs at least one stylish dress in her wardrobe. There are certain items that you simply can't knit and this particular dress is one of them. Ideal for Christmas drinks with friends and family, a black knitted bolero would make the perfect partner. Just swap the high heels for a pair of chic wedges or ballerina pumps.

Blue dress, £150, in size 6 to 18. Clutch bag, £80, both by Austin Reed (01845-573135).

So long

Once we get to a certain age, very few women feel happy showing off their arms. Haven't you noticed that the shops are full of pretty sleeveless creations that frankly are not remotely suitable? If you're lucky enough however, to be invited to a formal event, a long dress will make you feel a million dollars. Why don't you knit a sparkly black Lurex shrug? It will instantly add a touch of glamour and cover up those problem arms.

Plum bodice, £59.99. Plum taffeta skirt, £99, both in sizes 8 to 20. Plum faux fur stole, £59.99, all by Alex & Co (01582-399842).

Begin with the cord which is made on the back or main bed and which will be approximately 12 [12, 14, 14, 16, 16] cm long. Bring up 3 needles then return the centre needle to the non-working position. Set the machine for plain knitting (Passap and Pfaff machines - N/GX, black strippers). Using stitch size 4 or tension 5, knit 1 row. Bring the centre needle into work and knit 2 rows. Increase 1 stitch on the left. Increase the stitch size or tension by half a number. Knit 2 rows. Increase the stitch size to 5 or tension to 6. Set the machine to knit in one direction and slip in the other (Passap and Pfaff machines CX/GX). Set the row counter to RC 000. Knit to RC 60 [60, 70, 70, 80, 80].

Flap This will be approximately 8 [9, 10, 11, 13, 15] cm long not including the cord. Handle up or lever to 'P'. Transfer alternate stitches to the front or ribber bed so that needles are in the 1x1 rib position. Set the machine for half Fisherman's rib.

Passap and Pfaff machines Change to orange strippers.

Other machines hang in weights. Set the row counter to RC 000. Set stitch size or tension to 3/3.

Passap and Pfaff machines (Increase 1 stitch at each end of work and knit 4 rows) 8 [9, 10, 11, 12, 13] times.

Other machines (Increase 1 stitch at each end of work and knit 2 rows) 8 [9, 10, 11, 12, 13] times.

All machines There should be 20 [22, 24, 26, 28, 30] stitches knitting. Set row counter to RC 000 and knit in half Fisherman's rib to RC 34 [38, 44, 48, 60, 72] for Passap and Pfaff machines and RC 24 [26, 28, 32, 40, 48] for other machines. Mark the centre of the earflap with a knot of waste yarn. Transfer all stitches to the back or main bed. Set the machine to knit stocking stitch. Using stitch size 5 or tension 6••, knit 2 rows. Knit off on to waste yarn.

stitch size $4\frac{1}{2}/4\frac{1}{2}$ and an appropriate tension for other machines, make the cast on. Set the row counter to RC 000. Set the machine for knitting full Fisherman's rib. Set stitch size or tension to $3/3$.

Passap and Pfaff machines Knit to RC 24 [24, 30, 30, 36, 36].

Other machines Knit to RC 16 [16, 22, 22, 26, 26].

Band Set machine for knitting 1x1 rib. Set row counter to RC 000.

Passap and Pfaff machines Knit to RC 12 [12, 16, 16, 20, 20].

Other machines Knit to RC 10 [10, 12, 12, 16, 16].

Crown Set machine for knitting half Fisherman's rib. Set row counter to RC 000.

Passap and Pfaff machines Knit to RC 74 [82, 90, 106, 114, 122].

Other machines Knit to RC 44 [48, 54, 64, 68, 74].

Top Set machine to knit 1x1 rib. RC 000. Knit to RC 4 [4, 6, 6, 8, 8]. Knit off onto waste yarn. When breaking yarn, leave a reasonable end (at least 30 cm) of the main yarn.

MAKING UP

Thread the end of main yarn coming out of the top of the hat into a double eyed bodkin or wool needle. Starting at the edge opposite from where the yarn is coming out, pick up each stitch of the last row of main knitting in turn until all stitches are threaded onto the yarn. Unravel the waste knitting. Pulling very gently so as not to break the yarn, ease the stitches together until the top has pulled into a tight ring. Stitch the edges of the ring together to secure. A small hole is unavoidable. Pin the side edges of the hat together with the right sides of the work together, matching the edges of the brim and band. Stitch to the top of the hat. Make a few stitches across the hole to close it. Trim cloche as required. Suggested trimmings are a large covered button, cord tied in a bow or large flat artificial flower. ■ eyed bodkin or wool needle. Starting at the edge opposite from where the yarn is coming out, pick up each stitch of the last row of main knitting in turn until all stitches are threaded onto the yarn. Unravel the waste knitting. Pulling very gently so as not to break the yarn, ease stitches closer together until the top has pulled into a tight ring. Stitch the edges of the ring together to secure. The ring of stitches will make a small hole, which is unavoidable. Pin the side edges of the band with the wrong sides together and stitch to within approximately 2.5 cm of the beginning of the crown section. Turn the work so that right sides are together and continue stitching the seam to the top of the hat. Make a few stitches across the hole at the top to close it. Please note The band is stitched with the wrong sides together so that the seam is inside when the band is folded up.

Bobble hat Stitch chosen trimmings to top of hat. Suggested trimmings are a large pompom, a bunch of small pompoms, a fluffy, a tassel on a cord, a cord bow, several cords with one end stitched together and the rest left dangling or a large button.

Attach earflaps to Russian-style hat Remember that when the earflap is tied up over the hat, the reverse side of the fabric will show. Turn the hat inside out. Matching the waste yarn marker on the earflap to the marker on the hat, pin one earflap into position. The last row of stocking stitch on the earflap should go to the first row of half Fisherman's rib of the crown. Stitch into place by back stitching loosely into the stitches held by the waste knitting. Remove waste knitting and markers. Stitch in all ends. Attach the second earflap in the same way.

Home truths

Joan Lafferty is struggling big time to knit a child's jumper. Perhaps she should have done a tension square after all!

In about 1950, craft magazines were full of advertisements for a new craft - machine knitting. I had been hand knitting since I was about six years old and was very keen on the craft. At the time pennies were scarce so, although I read all the advertisements, I could not afford a knitting machine. However, in 1952 my grandmother died and left her money between her five children and five grandchildren, so I received the (then) princely sum of £82.

My husband said, "you've been hankering after a 'fridge, so now you can buy one".

"No", I said, "I intend to get a job and earn the money for a fridge. This money is a present and I'm going to get a knitting machine". I did just that and bought a Knitmaster 3500, which required the yarn to be fed across the needles by hand. The needles knitted the stitches and then came out to upper working position automatically to take the yarn for the next row. I soon found that there were not enough needles to knit a jumper for my (rather large) husband, so I up-graded to a 4500, which worked in a similar way. I then went on to a Jones (later to become Jones+Brother and then Brother) machine, which had a lever to select needles, so two-colour work was possible.

INNOCENT FUN

In the late 50s and early 60s machine-knitting magazines sprang up and there were five or six of them as I recall. Some were better than others and I remember one put out by Jones, which was quite good. On the other hand, some were patronising and whilst others assumed that we knew what they were on about. However, I can't remember one that told the knitter what to do if things went wrong. In fact I can't recollect anyone ever confessing that things went wrong for them! Most of the instruction books were written in Japan and they 'lost' something in the translation, so were not always helpful. I remember we used to have a laugh at evening classes when the book referred to the 'backside' of the work - it was all innocent fun in those days! Around that time they brought the translating to Europe - not England, but Germany.

I'd been taught how to teach adults (though not in machine knitting) and the golden rule was to try to go at the pace of the slowest student, where possible. This stood me in good stead when I came to do Adult Education classes in machine knitting and also when I started writing articles for knitting magazines. I determined I would never assume that my readers knew it all and that I would confess when things went wrong for me. Why am I telling you all this? It's because things have been going wrong for me big time in the last few days.

Joan decided to knit this pattern by hand. All this was okay, but her hand knitting is 'very irregular'.

BREAK THE RULES

Regular readers may remember that I produced a hand knitting pattern from a machine one, for a friend who wanted to take up knitting again after a bit of a gap. I decided I should also knit this pattern by hand, to check that I had got it right. All this was okay, but my hand knitting is very irregular. However, my friend said, rightly, that it would be just as warm even if the stitches were uneven! These jumpers go to needy children so I thought I would knit another on the machine. Here I broke my strictest rule, I knitted without doing a tension piece and I think I paid the penalty for such a lapse! (Pause while you recover from your fainting fit!)

I hunted in the cupboard and unearthed a cone in a pretty blue colour. It had no label inside as to manufacturer, or what ply it was. I've been given a number of cones from various folk and this is often the case so I judged it to be about 4-ply and almost certainly acrylic. All my years of knitting have made me aware

In the late 50s and early 60s machine-knitting magazines sprang up and there were five or six of them that this kind of yarn knits (on my machine) at about tension 7 and 3/3 for the rib. So I started off in the rib, but it managed to hitch itself on an end needle, so off it came and I started again, completing the 16 rows that I usually knit for a child’s jumper. Next out came the transfer carriage and I got about half way across and the dratted thing jammed. So off came the carriages and I realised that the work had caught up again. A quick inspection of the main bed showed that a needle hook had bent - either as I pushed across the transfer carriage, or it jammed because the hook was bent. This meant taking the piece of rib off altogether and started a hunt for a new needle. However, when it came to pushing out the needle retaining bar, I took the trouble to make sure the sponge was not flat, which is a thing we (or at least I) don’t do as often as I should. Happily it was okay.

SEEK & YE SHALL FIND

With little going to plan, the next hurdle loomed ahead when I noticed that the unpicked yarn had developed a whiskery finish and the hard core of the yarn was more like three ply rather than a four-ply thickness. I then noticed some fluffy balls on the slots at the back of the needles and knew they must be removed before I went any further. I have two pairs of very fine tweezers, which I keep for this job. They usually sit on the edge of one of those collections of boxes intended for different lengths of pens and pencils. Needless to say neither was there. I knew I’d ‘borrowed’ one pair to fish oddments of vegetable and so on out of the sink plughole. Anyone sensible would have brought this back from the kitchen, but not me! I had to hunt for the other pair, which meant taking out all the other items including a centimetre ruler, my Knitmaster Green Ruler, lots of wire hangers for the edges of knitting, the oil bottle, a tape measure plus assorted tools. The tweezers were right at the bottom of the last section I inspected. Little balls of fluff removed, I set about knitting the back of the jumper.

I pushed out every other needle on the main bed then pushed up the ribber. It was immediately apparent that the ribber needles were not sitting neatly in the gap between the main bed ones, rather they were just touching. I knew this would make my rib appear slanting, so I abandoned the project until my son came round to unscrew the clamps and screws to adjust the ribber. However, try as we would we could not get the two beds to align properly. I knew my son had a lunch appointment and was in a hurry to get going, so we tightened up the screws and off he went.

I found that by moving the ‘P’ and ‘H’ lever slightly I could get the needles into proper alignment for the rib, but I dared not try to use the transfer carriage in case I damaged another needle. I’ve managed to finish the garment successfully and although it’s smaller than the one I knitted by hand, it looks quite satisfactory. Nevertheless, I shall hand in the two jumpers on two separate occasions because despite the struggle, the machine knitted one really would show up my dreadful hand knitting! ■

Creating Aran Style Tuck

It's quite surprising the effect that transferring certain stitches to the ribber bed has on basic tuck stitch patterns says Carl Boyd

Sample 1 is the first pattern I've chosen to really demonstrate this technique. The pattern is Stitchworld 258 knitted as a straightforward tuck stitch.

Sample 2 shows that transferring the stitches marked on the punchcard to the ribber bed has a dramatic effect on the sample, immediately bringing it to life. The ribber bed tension is set to two numbers lower than the main bed, for example if the main bed is Tension 7 then set the ribber to Tension 5 depending on the yarn being used. The yarn I've used is pure wool 4-ply.

Sample 3 uses Stitchworld 259, which is a good basic tuck stitch and really enhanced by the stitch transfer as shown in Sample 4.

Sample 5 uses Stitchworld 265 and is another tuck stitch that lends itself to this technique as can be seen in Sample 6, which is greatly enhanced by a simple stitch transfer.

Sample 7 and Sample 8 shows how further interest could be added by cabling the stitches on the ribber bed on Row 2 and every following 22nd row thereafter.

Sample 4

Sample 6

“All the samples are from Brother Stitchworld and it’s vital that end needle selection is switched off for this technique”

Stitch

Sample 9 I used this technique 12 years ago when I designed Pattern 49, The Aran Look. As the shape and loose fitting style is now out of date, I would not advocate using this pattern but the punchcard and technique is still worth a second look. I’ve knitted a swatch so that you can see how effective it is and here are the instructions.

Transfer the sts marked on punchcard to the ribber, leaving main bed Ns out of work. For example transfer stitch on Ns 9, 11 and 12 at left of centre to ribber and Ns 8, 10 and 11 at right of centre to ribber and repeat across the bed. Set RC at 000, press in both tuck buttons on main bed and knit to RC 016. On ribber bed and working on the first group of 6 Ns at left of centre, cable sts on Ns 15 and 17 transferring the inside Ns first and then repeat on Ns 9 and 11 at right of centre. Repeat on all groups across the bed, repeating the cabling every 21 rows at RC 037, 058 and so on. When time permits, I’ll create a new up-to-date pattern to use with this punchcard. I think it would work very well as a jacket. ■

Pass the hat

Irene Krieger makes a welcome return to our pages with some quick-to-make hats that need nothing more than a change of lock or carriage setting for the different sections

These hats are quick to make, as they require nothing more than a change of lock or carriage settings to knit the different sections. Without rushing, it should be possible to knit each of them in about half an hour. All the hats can be knitted on any standard gauge knitting machine with a ribber as well as Passap and Pfaff E6000 and Duomatic 80 machines. However, because of the differences in tensions, where necessary there are separate instructions for Passap and Pfaff as well as other machines. All the instructions are written fully, without abbreviations to make them easier for beginners to understand.

STITCH PATTERN

The main stitch pattern used is half Fisherman's rib (called English rib in some countries and instruction manuals). This has two surfaces, a smooth side and a textured side. Either side of the fabric can be used for the right side of the hat. On the Russian-style hat, the earflaps show the reverse side of the fabric when they are tied at the top of the hat, which you will need to bear in mind when putting the hat together.

YARN SELECTION

The sample hats were made in readily available 4-ply acrylic yarn, though another yarn may be substituted provided the tension swatch measurements are matched. Four ply wool or wool mix could be used, as could several ends of fine industrial yarns threaded together. Where the tension swatch measurements cannot be matched, it will be necessary to adapt the patterns. After allowing time for the fabric to settle, the hats are made up without steaming to preserve the natural elasticity of the knitting.

IN STYLE

The basic 'bobble hat' or 'beanie' (turquoise and plain brown hats) has a deep 1x1 rib band after which follows a half Fisherman's rib crown. To reduce bulk at the top, the crown section is finished off with some rows of 1x1 rib. The deep band allows greater variation in the way the hat can be worn. Turned up twice, the height from the bottom of the fold to the top of the crown is reduced, allowing the hat to sit higher on the head. Turned up just once, the hat can be pulled right down over the ears for extra warmth. Whichever way the band is worn, the crown section has sufficient depth to give a little fullness at the top. This means that the hat doesn't have to be worn with the top of the crown pulled on to the top of the head. Both the Russian-style hat with the earflaps and the cloche are adaptations of this basic hat. The seam for all hats is worn to the centre back of the head.

SIZE RIGHT

The patterns for all three hats have been written in six sizes - for 40 [44, 48, 52, 56, 60] cm heads. The first three sizes can be loosely considered as children's sizes and the last three as for adults with the early teens being an obvious grey area. The size required in this case will depend on the build of the person the hat is being made for. The proportions of a child's and adult's head are quite different so there is a 'jump' in the depth of the crown

between the first three and last three sizes to take this into account. The depth of the ribbed band also changes but to make a smoother transition between the sizes and to give more pleasing proportions, this varies in steps of two sizes.

The sizing diagram shows the finished sizes of the basic bobble hat. The width is based on the half Fisherman's rib tension swatch. (In wear, the 1x1 ribbed band will stretch to the same size as the crown.) The sizes of the other hats are the same, though the styling changes for the cloche will change the shape of the piece of knitting. From the diagram you will see that each hat is a little smaller than the head size it is to fit. This is to take advantage of the natural elasticity of the fabric, making it stretch a little to grip the head so that the hat will stay in place when worn. Obviously, choosing the correct size to knit is important but ribbed fabrics are very 'forgiving' and the range that each size will fit is actually quite large. To illustrate, the 56 cm size measures 53.5 cm around when relaxed but can stretch to 77 cm. Of course, with the fabric stretched to that extent the hat would not be comfortable to wear but it shows that someone with a larger head size could also wear the 56 cm size.

If you're unsure of which size to choose, the easiest way to find out is to make a sample of the bobble hat in the size you think is most likely to be correct. This will take no time at all and use only a small amount of yarn. If the sample is the correct size, the same size in the other styles will also be correct.

COUNT DOWN

When a number of needles is given, this is counted over the needle scale on the front or main bed, irrespective of how many needles are actually working on that bed. Increasing or decreasing should be done so as to maintain the 1x1 needle arrangement.

Special instructions for Passap & Pfaff E6000 & Duomatic 80 machines All hats are made using manual settings on the E6000, so therefore it is not necessary to programme the console or even turn it on. Follow the instructions as given below.

1x1 rib cast on Bring the required number of needles on the front bed to working position. Bring out the same number on the back bed. Handle up. Arrange the needles as shown on the 1x1 rib diagram. Orange Strippers. Set locks to N/N. Knit 1 row. Set locks to CX/CX. Knit 2 rows. Set locks to N/N. Knit 1 row.

1x1 ribbing Made with the beds set as above but the locks set to N/N.

Half Fisherman's rib The 1x1 needle arrangement as shown for the cast on should be maintained. Change the stitch size if instructed and set locks to N/EX. The handle should remain up and orange strippers should be used.

Full Fisherman's rib Set locks to EX/EX. The handle should remain up and orange strippers should be used.

Special instructions for other machines

As it is necessary to use weights when working with the ribber on other machines and the weights have an elongating effect on the knitting, it is extremely unlikely that the tension swatch sizes given for the Passap and Pfaff machines can be matched. During experimenting, it was found that though the measurement for the stitches could be matched quite closely and the slight differences could be safely ignored, far fewer rows were needed to achieve the same length on machines that use weights. The patterns give two sets of row numbers, one for Passap and Pfaff machines and one for other machines. If the tension swatch measurements cannot be matched, adjustment to the patterns will be necessary to compensate.

As there are so many different makes and models of machines, it is impossible to give settings for all of them, so below it is explained what the machine should be doing and there are suggestions for tensions. You must look in your instruction book for the settings for your particular machine. These tensions are suggestions only and it will be necessary to experiment a little to find the tensions that give the best results.

Foldback hat

Please note If your machine has another way of achieving half and full Fisherman's rib or making the cast on, you must follow the instructions in the manual and make appropriate adjustments to the pattern. For example, if your manual says to make half Fisherman's rib by knitting plain on the ribber and tucking on the main bed, you must do so.

1x1 rib cast on The pitch lever should be on 'P' so that there is a working needle against an empty needle on the opposite bed - see the 1x1 rib set up diagram for guidance. As ribbing is to follow, make the cast on and tubular rows on tension 0/0 and then gradually bring the tension up to 3/3. The cast on for the cloche needs to have as much stretch as possible, so it's cast on will need to be made looser.

1x1 Ribbing The 1x1 needle arrangement of the cast on should be maintained. All the stitches on the main bed and ribber should be knitting on all rows.

Half Fisherman's rib The 1x1 needle arrangement should be maintained. Set the machine so that the main bed is knitting plain throughout. The ribber bed stitches should be knitting when the carriage is moved from right to left but tucking on every needle when the carriage is moved from left to right.

Full Fisherman's rib: Please consult your instruction book. Set the ribber as for half Fisherman's rib. Set the main bed so that it is tucking on all needles for one row and knitting all needles for one row alternately. When the ribber is tucking, the main bed should be knitting and vice versa. ■

Go with the

Readers who have attended Metropolitan's Dream Week, or one of the many workshops held throughout the year, will know Bill King. He's innovative, talented and lots of fun

Bill King's talks and demonstrations are exceptionally inspiring, thought provoking and leave knitters feeling amazed at what they can achieve by thinking outside the box. We're delighted to welcome Bill to MKM. With his expert guidance, we'll learn how to create knitted samples with methods used by professional designers. He produces fabrics most of can only dream of, on a basic machine and we've persuaded him to show us how to experiment to produce some wonderful fabrics.

Before we blow your mind away with this month's samples, we need to mention a couple of things. You won't have are explicit instructions for placing the carriage on the needlebed or setting the row counter. The whole idea of this feature is for you to sit at your machine and play. The other thing to note is that we're not giving you any yarn details, except to show you a finger wrap of the yarns Bill has used. For these swatches he's found odds and ends in his yarn store and that's also what we must do. For this month's gorgeous samples, you'll need Card 1 (or a basic 1x1 needle selection on your machine) and a 7-prong transfer tool.

The fine gauge industrial hand flat machine, which I use a lot, has a very limited needle selection possibility. This involves using high and low needle butts and is equivalent to a punchcard locked on one row. As you can imagine, my 'little grey cells' have to be constantly rubbed together to try and come up with something different and here I've adapted one of these ideas for the standard gauge domestic machine. The principle is that although I can't change the needle selection from the one row on which I'm locked, I can take needles out of work and bring them back in later.

The samples shown here have all been knitted with basic Card 1 (1x1 selection) locked. With a basic construction of four rows tuck and two rows knit, usually in different colours, I found it easiest to start off with two rows tuck and two rows knit to show me which are the tucking needles. I can then see which stitches to transfer to adjacent needles.

The technique is simple - using the 7-prong tool, transfer groups of eight tuck needles and leave the empty needles in non-working position. This should involve using the transfer tool twice per group and then alternate with groups of eight tuck needles left in work. Next knit a few repeats of the multi-colour tuck pattern and fill in the empty needles by pushing them back to working position. (Here you can experiment and knit quite a few rows plain, or some rows tucking on all needles.) Finally transfer the needles, which were previously tucking and leave the empty needles in non-working position. This alternating tuck and 'every other needle' knitting combined with the resulting distortion produces some truly unusual effects. You'll find that different textures of yarn work well together and the face and reverse sides are also quite different, so it's a good opportunity to get the garter bar out and turn the fabric every couple of repeats. Sit at your machine, play and enjoy! ■

A cause for concern

From time to time a matter needing some serious thought is brought to our attention and something happened recently that we've decided to pass on.

Our Editor Anne writes The problem came to light when a subscriber and long-standing reader telephoned me in some distress. I've known her personally for a long time and listened carefully as she told me her story. She decided she'd like to buy a Brother 950i and ribber and answered an advert in MKM. The seller wasn't too far away and the two arranged to meet at a convenient halfway point. Our reader told me that she seemed a very nice lady so the machine was handed over and our reader, as requested, paid cash before both went their separate ways.

A few weeks went by and for health reasons our reader was unable to get to the machine. When she did, she noticed there were no ribber clamps. She rang the lady, who said she was sure they were there and our reader assured her they were not. The seller rang back to say she must have given them to someone who had bought her electric motor and she'd ask her to send them direct to our reader, which she did.

The machine seemed okay until our reader put on the ribber, only to discover that the carriage would only go a short way across the needlebed before the needles jammed. She tried everything, including borrowing another 950i carriage from a friend and also the ribber carriage, but to no avail. Our reader then decided to try the carriage from the machine she'd just bought on her friend's machine and it worked perfectly. Following this, she came to the conclusion that something must be wrong with the machine itself. She tried several times to telephone and the seller hung up on her on each occasion.

At this point our reader rang me – not to complain but to ask if I could give her any advice. Almost always, problems with needles jamming and machines not working are solved by replacing the needle retaining (sponge) bar. Fortunately her friend had recently replaced her sponge bar so our reader borrowed it to try in her machine. With this in place, the machine knitted perfectly. Our reader then managed to contact the seller and told her what had happened. The seller was rude and offensive, insisting that there was nothing wrong with the machine she'd sold. She was also adamant that she would not pay for a new needle retaining bar. Needless to say, a new sponge bar was acquired and all's well that ends well. However, the upset and distress has been considerable and much of it could perhaps have been avoided.

There are a number of companies advertising in MKM who sell pre-owned and fully reconditioned machines. They'll also arrange delivery for mail order sales. The first names to spring to mind and who have supported MKM for many years are Heathercraft and Undy Yarncrafts. By chance I'm typing this whilst attending Metropolitan's Dream Week and Carol has just told me that they always have good stocks of second hand machines. Pre-owned Silver Reed models are also guaranteed. In truth, some excellent machines are always available second hand and many of them have been well used and loved. If you decide to buy used equipment, please try to see the machine assembled and in full working order before you part with your hard-earned cash. Alternatively buy with confidence from a reputable dealer and a number of them advertise in MKM. Fortunately our story had a happy ending, but you might not be so lucky exchanging equipment with a total stranger in a lay by. ■

Mock rib instructions

Used for welts, cuffs, neckbands and other edges on single bed machines without a ribber.

Push the number of main bed needles given in pattern to working position. Push every alternate needle back to non-working position for a 1x1 rib or every third needle back to non-working position for a 2x1 rib. It may be necessary to reduce this number by one needle at one or both edges to keep the rib even. (Increase the stitches after the mock rib has been worked to give the same number as the pattern.)

Using main tension and waste yarn, cast on and knit a few rows ending with carriage at left. Set row counter at 000. Using at least two full sizes tighter than main tension, knit the number of rows given in pattern for rib. Using three full sizes looser than this tension, knit one row. (This loose row gives a neat fold line.) Return to two full sizes tighter than main tension and knit the same number of rows as before. Push empty needles from non-working to working position and make a hem by placing loops of first row worked in main yarn evenly along the row. Make sure that each empty needle holds a loop to prevent a row of holes across the work. Unravel waste yarn when work has been removed from machine. After garment has been blocked to size, insert a metal welt bar or thin, clean piece of wood through the hem and pull firmly downwards to draw the stitches of mock rib closer together. Set the stitches by steaming lightly on the wrong side, if pressing instructions permit.

Quick cast-on

This method can be used not only for speed but also when the edges are either hidden or to be gathered by pulling up yarn end. With carriage at right, push alt Ns to WP. Use tension dial setting and either MY or WY as given in pattern. K 1 row. Carefully hook on the cast-on comb. Push remaining alt Ns to WP and K 1 row. The carriage is back at right. Cont as given in pattern instructions. When knitting is removed from machine, pull yarn end at cast-on edge to gather up sts or, for a straight edge, pull yarn end to remove any slack and fasten off. Your manual will describe this method of casting on although it may be called by a different name and may not use a cast-on comb. ■
